THEY SAW SNAKES

REPTILES WERE REAL OPHIDIANS, THOUGH MIGHT HAVE BEEN OTHER KIND

Filled with grape juice, not the kind patronized by Mr. Bryan, but the more potent vintage to be obtained at the regular wineries, C. F. Gurnee and N. S. Summers zigzagged along the San Fernando road yesterday in blissful indifference to the city boundary. As long as they kept out of the limits of Glendale they were safe from profane hands which have no respect for the god Bacchus and little sympathy with deeds inspired by his influence.

Gurnee and Summers with arms entwined, singing strange songs in their glee, wended in and out among the vines and the brush, when suddenly Summers spied a sinuous, scaly form moving among the dust. With a whoop that made the hills resound he rushed on the monster and dispatched it with a single blow.

Hanging his trophy around his neck, he and his companion wandered all around until an untoward fate induced them to cross into Glendale, where they were promptly arrested, snake and all, and taken to the lockup.

This morning both men were charged before Judge Whomes with drunkenness. The judge sentenced them to 10 days or $10. Gurnee paid the fine, but Summers, for lack of the necessary amount, was sent to jail.

TROPICO

The card party which Glen Eyrie chapter gives Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon on Maryland avenue promises to be a most delightful social event. The pretty score cards will be but twenty-five cents. Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock and Mrs. Clarence M. Good will be hostesses for this charming event. Miss Fredonia Borthick, queen candidate, will be present and all will have the opportunity of meeting this charming young lady.

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson of Central avenue and Riverdale drive is entertaining as her house guests Mrs. John Faulkner and Miss Eva Faulkner of Burlington, Iowa. They will remain a month in Southern California.

Miss Nora Beasley of Kansas City, Mo., is the house guest of Miss Cora Hickman of Palm Villa, on West Park avenue.

Robert N. Taylor, officer of the day of N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., left for San Jose on Sunday morning, where he will attend the department convention of the Post. Later a trip to San Francisco will be enjoyed.

Mrs. E. B. Elias and Miss Eula Richardson left for Palo Alto last Sunday, where they will spend the week enjoying the commencement exercises of Stanford university. Miss Lillian Elias, daughter of Mrs. Elias will be graduated.

At the election of the Tropico Parent-Teacher association held Friday afternoon at the Cerritos school, Mrs. Mary Chadwick was chosen president, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, vice-president; Mrs. Richard Todd, second vice-president; Mrs. A. H. Gaarder, treasurer, and Miss Emily Elias, secretary.

ELKS' STREET DANCE

One of the most unique forms of entertainment that the Elks have ever devised for the public will take place Saturday evening, May 15. The dance will be held in the street. Permission has been obtained from the city trustees to hold the terpsichore and festival on Broadway between Central and Brand.

The dance will continue all evening up to midnight and already indications point to a very large attendance. There will be a first-class band in attendance and lights and merriest should constitute a pleasing environment. A small charge will be made, as the entertainment while contributing to the general amusement of the city, will be in behalf of the Elks' candidate for queen of the Festival of Fruits and Flowers, Miss Barbara Mitchell.

ST. MARGARET GUILD

There will be a business meeting at the home of the president, Miss Harriett M. Wells, 1504 West Broadway, this evening, when officers for the coming year will be elected. All members of the Guild should be present. The St. Margaret Girls will give a card party on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Flint, 142 South Central avenue. Everyone interested in the work of the Guild is invited and will be cordially welcomed.

WATER SYSTEM WORK

PUBLIC SERVICE DEPARTMENT IS RAPIDLY CONNECTING UP OLD LINES

Glendale's public service department is hard at work connecting up the old pipe lines and installing new pipe. Under the old systems there were frequently three or more sections of pipe line along streets, with no connections. In case of fire the unconnected sections were unavailable for service. That is all being eliminated.

The department last week installed a four-inch cast-iron line east of Verdugo road. This week work will proceed on the installation of a six-inch cast-iron line in Ninth street.

The sixteen-inch line on First and Glendale has been connected up with the six-inch line running east. This work was done after 12 o'clock midnight, so that the line on Adams street might handle the situation.

On East First and East Second streets the lines have been connected with the valves formerly used by the Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir company and with those of the old Consolidated.

Pipes are being installed on Central avenue and the cross connections made filling in the gaps in the old lines. A great part of the former difficulties in the water supply were due not only to the lack of pipe, but also to the inability to get the complete use of what had been installed for lack of connection.

On Pacific avenue an eight-inch line is to be put in from Broadway south to Riverdale. Hydrants also will be put in there. An eight-inch line will be installed on Broadway from Pacific to Columbus. On Columbus from Broadway almost to Second street a six-inch line is to be installed.

"MUCH ADO ABOUT A PICNIC"

Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock a group of enthusiastic Shakespeare students met at the residence of Mrs. W. E. Evans on Orange street, each with a copy of "Much Ado About Nothing" under one arm, and a bulging picnic basket under the other.

Three important looking automobiles were lined up along the curb, and into them lunches, ladies, coffee pots and editions of Shakespeare were deposited in a heterogeneous, but happy array.

Mrs. W. P. Thompson, Mrs. Harry Lynch and Mrs. W. E. Evans were the competent "Oldfieldesses" who drove the party through the picturesque Mint Canyon, arriving at a beautiful spot near Acton in just two hours. Here these energetic ladies assisted by the others of the party, pitched camp. A roaring fire was soon topped by a sizzling coffee pot and another fire was amorously roasting fat, juicy weiners. A long white cloth was set with a complete luncheon, from salad to desert, and in the center of the festive cloth reposed (for a short while) a beautiful birthday cake, baked by Mrs. E. D. Yard in honor of the first birthday luncheon of the Tuesday Afternoon club Shakespeare section. The cake was adorned with Cecil Brunner roses and incidentally, a thick, toothsome orange icing. It was well received.

In passing it might be appropriate and appreciative to add that Mrs. John Hunchberger presided at the coffee boiler to the extent of serving at least three cups each to most of the members.

After luncheon Shakespeare was digested for a short while "literally speaking," and a unanimous vote was given to continue the section through the next year, according to a plan submitted by the chairman, Mrs. Evans.

The return trip was particularly beautiful, as the green hills were casting their lengthening shadows over the roads which led to Glendale, home and husbands.

Ladies who enjoyed this novel event were Mesdames E. D. Yard, Frank Hester, Charles Temple, Glenwood Jones, John Hunchberger, W. P. Thompson, Frank Grosvenor, Wayland Brown, Harry Goodwin, Albert Pearce, Harry Lynch, W. E. Evans, Mrs. Nash and Miss Bertha Jackson.

CHILDREN CARED FOR

Chief Herald today conveyed the two children of Lawrence Gomez to Los Angeles in the care of Mrs. R. Planette, probation officer. The two children will be cared for in the juvenile home. It will be remembered that Gomez was recently arrested by the Glendale police department and charged with the crime of abducting Artina Arvendez, a girl of fourteen years of age, and also with contributing to the dependency of a minor child. Gomez is now in jail awaiting trial and the two children were friendless. Their mother was killed some time ago.

ATTORNEY GIVES OPINION CONCERNING ELECTION

QUESTION OF FIFTH CLASS CITY DISCUSSED AT LENGTH AT THE TRUSTEES' MEETING—CITY ATTORNEY INSTRUCTED TO PREPARE TO HAVE AN OFFICIAL CENSUS TAKEN—TO RE-ADJUST VOTING PRECINCTS BOUNDARIES

The board of trustees of the city of Glendale met at 7:30 p. m. Monday, May 10, at the city hall. There were present at roll call Grist, Lane, Thompson, Tower and Williams.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read.

Mr. J. W. Usilton addressed the board asking in the name of the Glendale lodge of Elks, No. 1289, permission to rope off that portion of Broadway between the easterly line of Orange street and the westerly line of Brand boulevard for next Saturday evening, May 15th, this being asked in the interest of Miss Barbara Mitchell the candidate for May festival queen. On motion of Trustee Williams, the request was granted with the proviso that like concessions will be granted to other candidates upon request.

Application by Tarr Brothers and one by John W. Henderson for permits to do street work by private contract, having the sanction of the city engineer, were granted.

The clerk read the following letter received from the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county:

Los Angeles, Cal.,
May 6, 1915.

To the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, California.

Dear Sir: The work of readjustment of boundaries of voting precincts of the county will be commenced immediately by the board of supervisors.

In the adjustment of precinct lines in the various cities the supervisors desire to conform as nearly as possible to the preferences of the residents and therefore request that the board of trustees of your city inform the board of supervisors of their recommendations in regard to boundaries of precincts in your city.

It is necessary that the work of reprecincting be completed at an early date, and therefore a prompt compliance with this request will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,
H. J. LELANDE, Clerk.
By A. M. McPherson, Deputy.

A letter from Dr. R. E. Chase dated May 7, 1915, with reference to the disability of Frank Fellows, according to the doctor's last examination, was read. The city attorney suggested that the injured man be paid 65 per cent of his average weekly wage from the date of the last settlement with him to April 30, 1915. On motion, so ordered.

A letter from the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners local No. 563, signed by H. L. Grafious, secretary, asking for the construction of a permanent municipal band-stand with rest rooms, on motion of Trustee Williams was received and placed on file.

The report of the city clerk of licenses collected from May 1st to May 8th shows 105 licenses issued; amount, $180.75.

The clerk read the opinion of the city attorney, which follows, concerning the petition by the people of Glendale for an election on the question of changing Glendale from a city of the sixth class to one of the fifth class:

Gentlemen: With reference to the petition filed with your board at its last meeting requesting the board to take steps to submit to the people of the city of Glendale at an election the proposition as to whether or not the city of Glendale shall reorganize as a fifth class city, I beg to advise you as follows, to-wit:

That the cities of the state of California are classified according to their population as provided by an act entitled "An act to provide for the classification of municipal corporations," approved March 2, 1883, and amendments thereto. This act divides the municipal corporations of the state of California into classes from the first to and including the sixth according to their respective populations. By an amendment to section one of this act, approved by the legislature of the state of California March 24, 1911, cities having a population of more than six thousand (6000) and not exceeding twenty thousand (20,000) were classified as cities of the fifth class. Section two, providing for the manner in which the population shall be determined for the purpose of classifying them, as amended in 1911, reads as follows, to-wit:

Section 2. For the purpose of classifying municipal corporations as in this act provided, the population of all municipal corporations within the state is hereby determined to be the population of such municipal corporations as shown by the federal census taken in the year A. D. 1910; provided, however, that whenever a new federal census is taken, the municipal corporations within the state are not, by the operation of law, reclassified under such census, but shall remain in the old classification until reclassified by the legislature unless a direct enumeration of the population be made, as in section three of this act provided.

It will be observed that the legislature by the foregoing section provided two plans by which the population of cities shall be determined for the purpose of their classification:

First, as stated by the last federal census.

Second, by direct enumeration of the inhabitants, as provided in said act of March 2, 1883.

Section three of said act provides that:

"The council, board of trustees or other legislative body of any municipal corporation may at any time cause an enumeration of the inhabitants to be made, and in such manner and under such regulations as said body may by ordinance direct."

In re. Mitchell, 120 Cal. Page 384, was a case involving the legality of the police court of the city of Los Angeles as organized under the so-called Whitney act of March 18, 1885, providing for the organization of police courts. The legislature of the state of California in 1897 passed an act authorizing any city or county in this state to take its census. The city of Los Angeles had a census taken under this act and, as a result of such census, the city was shown to have more than one hundred thousand inhabitants. The petitioner, Mitchell in that case, was being prosecuted in the police court as organized under the law when the city was known to have had a population which confined it to a lower class than it was shown to be entitled to under the census of 1897, and hence contended that he was entitled to be released for the reason that with the passing of the city of Los Angeles into a population of a higher class than the police court went out of existence. Hence, the question arose in that case as to what was necessary to pass an organized city from one class to another. The supreme court of this state in that connection spoke as follows, to-wit:

"Moreover, the general act for the classification of cities according to population, passed on March 2, 1883 (statute 1883, page 24), provides that the United States census taken in 1880 and every ten years thereafter 'shall be the basis upon which the respective populations of said municipal corporations shall be determined, unless a direct enumeration of the inhabitants thereof be made as in this act provided, in which case such direct enumeration shall constitute such basis'—the enumeration provided for in that act requiring a vote of the people, and being entirely different from the census involved in the case at bar. It will be noticed that the classification act expressly declares that the United States census shall be 'the basis' for the determination of the population of cities, except when there shall be the other enumeration provided for in that act, and that then the latter shall 'constitute such basis'; but in the act of 1897 herein question, there is no such declaration, nor is there any allusion whatever to the act of 1883, which fixes a permanent basis of enumeration for the purpose of classification."

The date of this decision is March, 1898. The supreme court in the case of Puterbaugh vs. Wadham, 162 Cal. page 617, holds that the act of 1883 providing for the classification of cities and for the taking of the census for that purpose has not been changed. The supreme court there said that

"Section 2 of the act of 1883 for the classification of municipal corporations (Stats. 1883, page 24) provided 'the census taken under the direction of the

STUDY THE CHILD

MRS. CHARLES H. TOLL SAYS PARENT-TEACHERS FOSTER DEMOCRATIC SPIRIT

Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, in a special article says:

There was once in ancient Roman days, long gone by, a certain mother whose name lives in history as Cornelia, the mother of the Gracchi. It is written that one day, during the visit of a certain wealthy and proud woman, whose greatest delight lay in displaying and talking of her fine gowns and gorgeous jewels, she besought Cornelia to bring into the room for inspection her most precious belongings. "For," said she, "I do so love to look upon jewels." Then Cornelia rose and went out of the room, presently returning, leading by the hand her two manly sons. "These," said she, "are the only jewels of which I can boast."

The world in general has not come to look upon the young of the human species as the most precious asset that exists, but a great awakening has come to many of the mothers and fathers during the last quarter century. The movement of child welfare has become one of the most widespread of all activities engaging the mind of the thinker. Purely altruistic in every detail, it is a movement that is bound to increase in power and results for good.

Could Washington re-visit this great country to the founding of whose government he gave his talents so gladly, one of the most remarkable changes he would see would be the growth and development of sciences and their applications. The science of motherhood is but now beginning to be recognized as a definite science, the understanding of which concerns the future development of the race more than any other one thing. Too long has humanity depended upon instinct for guidance. But instinct is often over-ruled by others; insight and understanding makes the mother stand invincibly for her child's right to be properly brought up. While birds make pretty good nests purely from instinct, conditions in human affairs change so rapidly that human beings need definite knowledge to best fulfill their responsibilities.

The interpretation of child nature, that children may be properly trained is the most important of the world's many lines of work. Woman must put forth her greatest effort, and must understand all the forces that are hers to use. She must be a many-sided individual, capable of teaching, advising, leading in lines spiritual, mental and ethical. If she does not fulfill her high station, the Master will ask, "What has become of the one talent I entrusted thee?" Froebel wrote many years ago: "The destiny of the nations lies far more in the hands of women—the mothers—than in the hands of those who possess worldly power. We must cultivate women, who are the educators of the human race, else a new generation cannot accomplish its task."

The recognition of the tremendous responsibility resting upon women, and the knowledge that instinct is too uncertain a guide to be depended upon, led, several years ago to the formation of mothers' clubs, parent-teacher associations and many similar organizations, whose aims are practically the same. "If you are going to be an artist, there is need of canvas, brushes and colors. If you wanted to study chemistry, there would be a great fuss about the laboratory and materials, but for child study, the home and the school are your laboratory, and each child an experiment always in progress. The actions of your every-day life are the colors you unconsciously blend on the canvas of your child's awakening soul."

The parent-teacher association is the mother's school, or it may be termed the clearing house for ideas that make for better knowledge in the training of the little ones loaned to us. It is there that the child may be studied in his two most important relationships in his young life. I have had my child all his life, but I find that his teacher can sometimes give me a hint in my handling of his peculiarities that had not occurred to my mind before; or perhaps there is a lovable trait in his character that she has not detected, and the recognition of which will give her a new point of vantage with him.

The great majority of American children are educated in the public schools. All classes meet on a common ground. The co-mingling of the mothers in the parent-teacher associations tends towards that democratic spirit and the belief in the brotherhood of all mankind that forms the foundation of our government. And since the parent-teacher association welcomes all mothers of every race and creed it follows that a

BIG CROWD AT ELKS

B. P. O. E. HALL FILLED TO OVERFLOWING AT MONDAY NIGHT'S SMOKER

Glendale Elks are a hearty crowd and famous as entertainers. This fame brought to their spacious rooms Monday night a crowd of visitors that filled every seat and even flowed out into the street. There were more than two hundred visiting Elks from Los Angeles and a friendly group of fifteen from Pasadena.

After the routine business of the evening had been finished, Exalted Ruler Stephen C. Packer of Glendale lodge No. 1289 turned over the chair to James W. Horne of the Kalem Moving Picture company. Horne is a past master at managing a smoker. The crowd being so large and many of its members unknown to the chairman, he called to his assistance Exalted Ruler Shannon of lodge No. 99, Los Angeles. Shannon handled the celebrated performers and entertainers of his own lodge. In this way a very excellent program was arranged.

The program developed many pleasing talkers, humorists, singers and musicians. Among the singers was Earl Houk, the well-known blind baritone of Los Angeles. Mr. Houk gave several pleasing selections.

Past Exalted Ruler Wm. Herman West, Mr. Buttery and others gave song selections and monologues.

At the close of the entertainment refreshments were served. The full drill squad of Los Angeles lodge No. 99 was also present, but as the hall was crowded to the limit, the squad preferred to give its exhibition drill on the street, which it did to the great pleasure of all who witnessed the intricate evolutions. The large crowd took their departure at a reasonable hour with many promises of coming again.

CLUB DELEGATES

There will be an important meeting of the State Convention of Women's Clubs in San Francisco next week. Large numbers of ladies from this district will be present. The principal clubs in Glendale are sending delegates as are also the clubs of Los Angeles. It is expected that the gathering will be one of the largest and farthest reaching in its deliberations ever held.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, of the Tuesday Afternoon club, being unable to go to the convention, has appointed Mrs. Charles H. Toll as her representative. Mrs. Charles Hutchinson and Mrs. L. C. Rice of the same club will also be delegates.

Mrs. Luther G. Brown, 128 North Louise street, will go as representative of the Friday Morning club.

Mrs. John Braly will be present as representative of the Southern California Press club.

The large party of delegates will leave Los Angeles on Saturday by special train.

"BETTER BABIES"

Better Baby contest conducted during the festival of fruits and flowers May 27, 28 and 29. The committee in charge, composed of Mrs. Scott W. Johnson, Dr. Jessie Russell, Mrs. L. H. Durfee, Mrs. J. J. McReynolds, Mrs. L. Andrews, Mrs. L. C. Rice, and Miss May White. The contest is conducted by test cards furnished by the Better Baby bureau of the Woman's Home Companion, and is open to any child from six months to six months.

But babies in the first division, six to twelve months, do not score as prize winners. Any child in Tropico, Burbank, Casa Verdugo and Glendale or EagleRock may be registered on the payment of 25c at the meeting that will open this afternoon at the Masonic Temple for club members, and thereafter at each of the three drug stores in Glendale from 3 to 5, until May 22. All the doctors, with a few exceptions, have consented to assist them, so the mothers may have a choice as far as possible.

ODD COSTUME PARTY

The Mum club of the White Star Patrol of Glendale Elks has arranged an unique kind of party for Friday night. The gathering will take the form of a masked affair. Those who attend will be expected to appear in odd costumes and to paint their faces in such manner as to provoke laughter. The party will be held in Odd Fellows' hall.

SPANISH AND GERMAN PLAYS

The plays announced to be given by the Spanish and German classes of the high school and postponed from last Saturday evening, will be held tonight in the high school auditorium. Admission only ten cents.

greater spirit of tolerance, forbearance, understanding and love will result from the activities of this organization.

BEAUTIFYING THE STREETS

When a city learns to beautify and adorn its streets in the right way it not only acquires a valuable asset, but also adds to the health and pleasure of the community. Parking the streets is by no means an American idea. All the famous cities of Europe are pleasantly shaded and beautified by trees; flowers are everywhere and green grass—nature's color for tired eyes and brains—is to be seen on every hand.

In South America the same practice prevails. Buenos Aires and Valparaiso are developed under strict municipal rule that has produced a varied uniformity in street arboriculture and in size of buildings that has resulted in an exquisite combined effect. Indeed, in Valparaiso, where municipal restrictions on street building and adornment are most strict, one of the most beautiful cities in the world has been built up.

If cities like Berlin and Paris find it to the advantage of property holders to compel them to contribute to the bettering of the appearance of their streets, the profit must be equally possible in Glendale. Nature here favors the rapid development of picturesque streets and it only remains for the inhabitants themselves to take such combined measures as shall result in uniformity of tree planting.

Take a glance at some of the streets in Glendale at present and you will find that the lack of united action has resulted in certain streets being planted with palms on one side and shade trees on the other; in other cases several varieties of trees are mixed up. Property owners should get together and take measures to prevent such unsightly combinations.

Property owners on Verdugo road have under discussion the matter of beautifying their handsome boulevard with trees just at the present moment. They have wisely determined, so it is reported at least, to plant only two varieties alternately—Catalina cherry and oak. If this resolution has been adopted, Verdugo road will be a pleasure to the eye and its beauty will attract many a sightseer.

While street beautifying by means of trees is a profitable undertaking for the property owners, because of enhanced values, it is by no means an expensive undertaking. A glance at the first page of the Glendale Evening News of Tuesday, May 4, will show an estimate of the cost of planting trees on Colorado street prepared by Edward M. Lynch, city engineer.

Mr. Lynch shows that the street could be planted with 105 Catalina cherry trees and 86 camphor trees; that the parkways could be prepared and the trees cared for and all other necessary expenses defrayed at a cost of $226.90 or $0.247 per front foot. This burden is so small that there should be few objections to assuming it, especially as it would in all probability pay for itself more than twice over.

VACANT LOT PROBLEM

Quite a number of people in this world are always on the lookout in order to get something for nothing. Of course, according to Emerson's views in his famous essay on "Compensation" there is no such thing as getting something for nothing and such people are paying down every day for their general meanness. They have their reward. They have saved a few cents and have the wretched satisfaction of feeling that they are very poor specimens of humanity indeed.

That is excellent theory, but practice is different. It might well be a maxim of municipal conduct that it is not right to allow such people to get away with such miserable practices. It should be made difficult for the clever grabber of infinitesimal profits to get exactly what he desires.

One of the most wasteful of our municipal oversights is that by which the owner of vacant property escapes taxation while his more generous and more honest neighbor is assessed to the last mill. The vacant lot lies often in the very heart of the city. It is often a corner lot. All round it other lots have been built on with improved property. All the while these improvements have been raising the price of property, the value of the vacant lot has been keeping pace with the local advance.

At the same time the vacant lot has been contributing nothing to the public good. It is a parasite. It feeds at the expense of others and grows by means of the vital expenditure that is laid out to improve them.

This should not be the case. The vacant lot should bear an equal burden with the improved lot and should be compelled to contribute equally to the city's treasury. It is almost certain that there will be opposition to such a proposal as this. It is equally certain that there will develop a large body of honorable public opinion in its favor.

NATIONAL PRESTIGE

Those all-wise aliens who are declaring that the United States is so absorbed in the worship of money that it will be satisfied with a money payment in lieu of the American lives lost on board the Lusitania may be mistaken after all. Even if the government should feel disinclined to take a strong stand in communicating with Germany on the subject of the killing of American citizens, the people themselves may force its hand. Evidently there is a current of very strong feeling throughout the land on this subject. With almost no exceptions the press of the land advocate a strong hand in dealing with the matter and the wave of indignation—though under considerable restraint—is strong.

One thing is certain. American life and property will receive little respect from foreign nations as long as they are persuaded that the United States will go no farther than a protest, no matter what may happen. That is the general belief at present. Even Mexico believes that in the event of American intervention in that country, the natives would have more than an even chance of success against us. It almost seems at the present moment as though among all the nations there is none so poor as to do us reverence.

Such observers, however, are reckoning without the American people. The great heart of the nation is sound. The people will yet compel the government to take up seriously the question of national defense and to provide adequate navy and land forces on such a basis as to compel foreign nations to think twice ere they venture to insult the sovereignty of this people.

SOME VARIED VIEWS

Lloyd-George, the British chancellor of the exchequer, has found it difficult if not impossible to combat the serried ranks of the liquor traffic. The British love their beer and are not going to submit to an overburden of taxation on it. The Irish love their whisky traffic, from which a large profit is derived by the manufacturers, and their opposition is something to be feared, as it means the opposition of practically the whole Irish party in the house of commons. Thus it will easily be inferred that the British are not going to favor any wholesale measure of prohibition or even of restriction. Ultimately some change in the liquor regulations will be made without doubt. Meanwhile the heads of the nation will go on with their work of teaching the people to restrain their appetite by example. If the conversion of a nation to temperance can be brought about in this way, a great moral victory will have been obtained and that is always a step in advance. The rest will come.

Most encouraging of all is the fact that Scotland is seriously tackling the problem of prohibition during the period of the war. Seemingly a great wave of temperance is passing over that country so long famous for its devotion to the "barley bree." Circulars urging this restriction were sent out to all the leaders of industry, commerce and agriculture throughout the country. Only four replies were negative and more than a thousand were favorable to prohibition during that period. Everywhere prominent people in Scotland, following King George's example, have banished liquor from their homes. Even in leading distillery districts like Inverness enormous majorities have signified their preference for prohibition in some shape or form. Verily, the world progresses in some directions.

Canada may lose a few thousand men and spend a few hundred thousand dollars in connection with the war in Europe, but her great northwest is producing a wheat crop this year that will exceed that of 1914 by more than 15 per cent.

It is an ill wind that blows nobody good. Potato growers lament the fact that the 1915 crop is so much larger than the 1914 that the price is just about 33 per cent lower than last year's. The hold-over stock also is likely to bring a much lower price than it did last year. At the same time, what is the producer's loss is the consumer's gain. Low priced potatoes will be a godsend to the impoverished workers of the land.

News comes from Ontario that the recent rains make it impossible to harvest the orange crop just at present; but the delay will result in higher prices. Onion shipments from Brawley, in the Imperial valley, amount to three cars daily and shipments of grapefruit continue. The walnut crop all throughout the state promises to be excellent.

Muncie, Indiana, reports that a shepherd dog found a one-dollar bill in the street the other day and immediately recognizing the value of the article, picked it up and carefully carried it home to its master, who was in dire monetary straits just at that time. This is remarkable enough in all conscience, but what is most remarkable in the story is the inference that one of the thrifty citizens of Muncie should have been so careless as to lose a dollar bill and further that it lay long enough in the streets without recognition for the dog to pick it up.

Madison, Wisconsin, is greatly exercised these days over some remarkable computations made by the rising mathematical genius of the university. According to this authority, 141,200 malted milks are consumed annually by the students of the university. The cost of these drinks would buy one good meal for 56,480 people. The students smoke 1,040,000 cigarettes at an annual cost of $7800. The cigarettes would put a double girdle round Lake Mendota. The cigarette paper would make up 1300 library books of 100 pages each. These estimates remind one of the story of the reformer who, observing a man smoking an expensive cigar at the street corner, came up to him and said: "Let me show you, my friend. You probably smoke six of those cigars a day. The amount you have hitherto spent on them would have made you the owner of this handsome skyscraper on the corner." "Go and chase yourself," said the man on the corner; "I am its owner anyway."

Mrs. Pankhurst does not mince matters when talking to her fellow subjects. She tells the English that they were waxing fat and careless and that the war is a godsend in the way of awakening them from their lethargy. That indifference is characteristic of the English. Even in the days of Spanish war threats, just before the great Armada sailed up the channel, it was impossible to convince the English common people that there was any danger of invasion. The great female suffragist will do a good work if she will manage to stir the heart of the nation to a full realization of what lies before it. In view of recent events, there is deep truth in Mrs. Pankhurst's sentiment, "The time has passed for men to work and women to weep." The women now take their share of both work and danger.

BIG RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Braly of 205
North Brand boulevard are entertaining Mrs. Braly's daughter, Mrs. Chas.
W. Kirke of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.,
and Mrs. Hastings of New York City.
These ladies are leaving Friday for their eastern homes and Mrs. Braly is planning a reception in their honor for Thursday afternoon. A hundred invitations have been issued and in the rush incident to preparing for the reception on short notice, Mrs.
Braly fears she may have overlooked the names of some of those she would love to have, and she asks that if any are overlooked they will not feel that it is because they are not wanted.

It is to be regretted that the mirror never shows us what everybody else can see.

PERSONALS

Otto Hansen of Kansas City, Mo., came to Glendale Saturday to visit his sister, Miss Ellen Hansen, teacher of domestic science at the Glendale
Union high school.

Hadley Brown has just purchased a new five-passenger Jeffery car which is probably the most luxuriant car in Glendale used for auto service work.

Mrs. Sarah Beals, who has been residing at the O. V. Von Oven home, 830 Columbus, went to Los Angeles Thursday to spend the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Ida B. Rush, 918
South Hoover street.

Mrs. Askeland and son and daughter of 925 South Adams street spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
W. B. Pratt of Burbank, where Mr.
and Mrs. Jens H. Askeland and baby son reside. The mother and tiny Jens, Jr., are both doing nicely and on Sunday the sick room was banked with carnations in honor of this young mother's first Mothers' Day.

Bert Anderson, the well-known Glendale contractor, took a party of five friends along in his auto Monday for a very pleasant ride through the unequaled scenery of Montrose, La Canada and Arroyo Seco, Pasadena.
Those who went along with Mr. Anderson were Mr. and Mrs. Kirri, Mr.
C. Kiefer, Miss Virginia Graham and Miss Ethel Graham of 235 East Third street.

Mr. Homer Bidwell, a prominent wholesale produce merchant of Plymouth, Ills., accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Bidwell, is at present on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. David J. Graham of 235 East Third street. The two families are old friends of earlier Illinois days. Mr. Bidwell is looking over the West with a view to settling here. He is delighted with Glendale and its vicinity. The Bid-wells will remain in Glendale for a few days and will afterward return to Los Angeles, where Mrs. Bidwell's daughter resides.

ENTERTAINS DEACONS

One of the most pleasing and successful entertainments ever offered the deacons of Glendale Presbyterian church took place Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison, 245 South Kenwood street.
The deacons and their wives present were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy King, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Stafford, Mr. and Mrs.
C. C. Wilkey, Mr. and Mrs. William Prendeville, Mr. and Mrs. R. Van Kolken, Mr. and Mrs. James Newton,
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fielding, Mr.
and Mrs. W. G. Boyd, Dr. and Mrs.
H. R. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. T. T.
Davis; the Rev. Edmonds, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was also present with Mrs. Edmonds.

A pleasant social evening was spent with a delightful musical program.
Miss Monica Smith and Miss Vera Hollway charmed the company by their brilliant execution of a piano duet and responded to several en-cores. Mrs. Dr. Boyer gave a striking piano solo. Miss Catherine Lennox of Van Nuys entertained the company with several piano solos and specially with the recital music which she played on the occasion of her graduation from the musical school of the University of Southern California. Refreshments were served and the color scheme of the rooms and table was pink and white.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Thursday, May 13th, is Ascension Day, therefore there will be a service of the holy communion in the church at 10:30 a. m. Everybody invited.

Do not forget to trade at McGillis' grocery store tomorrow (Wednesday)
as the ladies of the Woman's Guild receive seven per cent on all sales on that day. It will help the church financially.

LOS ANGELES' FINEST CAFE- TERIA TO OPEN MAY 13

Mr. L. Godfrey, well known as a Glendale property owner and for many years one of Los Angeles' popular cafeteria men, will open Thursday, May 13, at 722 South Broadway one of the largest and the most hand-somerly equipped cafeterias in the West. The general design is Gothic and many innovations in decorations and in the general scheme have been worked out.

Many of our Glendale people know
Mr. Godfrey personally and will be glad that he is again in the business.
The name Godfrey has always meant the best the market can give and always at popular prices.

The Superior Electric company of Glendale were the general electric contractors, a big boost for our local firm.

Mr. Godfrey invites the Glendale people to make his new cafeteria their headquarters.

D. A. R. MEETING

Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp there will be a business meeting of the General Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R., at the home of the regent, Mrs. Mary Howard Gridley-Braly, 205 North Brand boulevard.
It is hoped and expected that every member be present, as the meeting is an important one.

Reports that one side or the other has won a brilliant victory may be true, but at this distance the identity of the side is in doubt.

NORTH GLENDAL

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cunningham of Portland, Oregon, who are spending the winter with their son, Mr. C. H.
Cunningham and family of 1013
Fairview avenue, are at present visiting Dr. and Mrs. Barnum in Pasadena and are also enjoying the privilege of attending the Brown and Curry meetings there.

Friends of Mr. Sam Webb of 1321 Valley View road will be glad to know that he is slowly recovering from the serious injury he received some time ago, although it will be several weeks before he will be able to use his arm.

Mrs. D. A. Watt of 1311 Valley View road spent the week-end in Monrovia, where she was the guest of her son, Mr. L. V. Watt and family of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Jared Wenger of 819 Campbell street, entertained as their guests for the day Sunday, Mr. Wenger's mother and sister, Mrs. E. M.
Wenger and Miss Elise Wenger of the Hotel Wagner in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fairchild of 1321 Arden avenue entertained as their guests at a beautifully appointed dinner Sunday, Mrs. W. Chapman of Corona, Miss Ethel Webb of Burbank, Mr. Frank Elliott and Mr. Maxfield Stanley of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Blue of Arden avenue have taken a cottage at Long Beach for two months and with their family are domiciled therein.
Upon their return to North Glendale they will occupy their handsome new home now under erection, located on Fairmont avenue.

Mr. Edgar McSpadden of Arden avenue spent Sunday in Long Beach where he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Blue, who are spending some time there.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Winslow of 1629 Ruth street spent Monday in Los Angeles where they were guests of Mr. Winslow's aunt at the Hotel Winslow on Spring street.

The Epworth League society of the Casa Verdugo M. E. Church are planning to give an entertainment
next Friday night at the home of Mr.
Edgar Dourte on Central avenue, at which time they will present living pictures to the beautiful poem of Whitcomb Riley's "That Old Sweetheart of Mine." Further announcements of the entertainment will be made later.

DISCUSSION ON LIGHT

Two Irishmen entered one day into earnest discussion on the comparative usefulness of the sun and moon.
"Shure, the sun gives a stronger light," said one.
"But the moon is more sensible,"
replied the other.
"How do yez make that out?"
"Oh, it's aisy."
"Let's hear yez prove it."
"Bedad, the moon shines in the night, when we nade it, while the sun comes out in the broad daylight when even a one-eyed mon can see without it."—Philadelphia Record.

CALLS CADILLAC EIGHT BEST CAR FROM AMERICA

Writer in Irish Motor Paper Enthusiastic After Forty-Mile
Winter Run

"So far as my experience goes, I can pronounce the Cadillac Eight the best thing in the shape of a motor car that has yet come to us from the land of the Stars and Stripes."

Thus writes an expert in a recent issue of The Motor News of Dublin,
a leading Irish motor publication,
after a run of forty miles in a Cadillac Eight, through slush and congested traffic in the streets of London and over snow-covered roads in the open country. He goes on:

"It is to all intents and purposes a one gear car, as you can use the top speed (high gear) on anything from five to over sixty miles an hour.
The acceleration is really wonderful.
The rate at which the car can jump
from a creeping pace up to a mile per minute was to me a revelation.
This was not my first introduction to the eight cylinder engine, having made a run two years ago on a De Dion with the same number of cylinders. The one impression left on my mind in connection with that trip was the smooth running of the engine. I described it then as 'being pulled along by a cable.' There was not only the feeling of sweet and easy running, but the sense of supreme and constant power as well.
My forty-mile run on the new Cadillac in and out of traffic, through slush and snow, up hill and on level, was a repetition of my previous experience."

"To use an Americanism, the new Cadillac is 'some' car, as it provides comfort bordering on luxury, speed far beyond one's requirement, and ease of control so simple that a child could drive it. You have seating accommodation for seven people.
Thanks to a highly organized factory and an enormous output, the American company is able to put this large family car on the market at a price that almost defies competition."

That the interest of prospective purchasers in London is high, the writer shows by relating the difficulty he had in arranging for a test run, being compelled to make it in the early morning hours.

A telephone call to Hunchberger & McFadden, the local Cadillac agents, for a demonstration will give you the opportunity to judge for yourself whether or not the above statement is correct. Phones Home

NOTICE OF LOCAL IMPROVEMENT

Public notice is hereby given that on the 3rd day of May, 1915, pursuant to instructions from the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale under Resolution of Intention Number 818 directing such report, the City Engineer of said city filed with the Clerk of the City Council a report in writing with specifications covering the planting of trees along a portion of Colorado Street, an estimate of the cost of said improvement and a diagram of said street, exhibiting all property fronting thereon, together with the amount of the proposed assessment.

Briefly described, the improvement contemplates planting trees of the Camphor and Catalina Cherry varieties at approximate intervals of 50 feet on Colorado Street from a point approximately 450 feet East of Verdugo Road to Glendale Avenue.

Reference is hereby made to said resolution of intention No. 818 and the above referred to report for further particulars of said work.

The Board of Trustees have fixed the time of hearing of protests against above referred to improvement at 8:00 p. m. Monday, the 17th day of May, 1915.

J. C. SHERER,
City Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

ATTORNEY GIVES OPINION

congress of the United States shall be the basis upon which the respective populations of said municipal corporations shall be determined. This section has not been changed by subsequent amendments of the statute (Stats. 1901, page 94; Stats. 1911, pages 11 and 476).

The same rule of law is approved in the case of ex parte Johnson, 6 Cal. App. page 740. It is clear from the law as laid down in the statutes of March 2, 1883, and the amendments thereto and as upheld and construed by the foregoing decisions of the supreme and appellate courts of this state that for the purpose of classifying cities the board of trustees or council is authorized to act only on a census taken by the federal government or by a census taken as provided in said act.

The petition filed with your honorable body prays that the population of the city be determined as provided in the act of March 8, 1899, which is as follows:

"Sec. 4. The census taken under the direction of the congress of the United States in the year eighteen hundred and ninety, and every ten years thereafter, shall be the basis upon which the respective populations of municipal corporations shall be determined, unless a direct enumeration of the inhabitants thereof has been made since such census, in which case such enumeration shall constitute such basis; provided, that if no such census, or direct enumeration, shall have been taken or made within three years next preceding the presenting of the petition for reorganization mentioned in section one of this act, such population shall be determined by multiplying by five the number of voters voting at the last general election held in such city."

According to the provisions of the general statute of 1883 hereinbefore referred to, and the foregoing decisions construing the same, section four of the act of 1889 never was valid in so far as it authorized the population to be determined by multiplying by five the votes cast at the last general election held in the city. Furthermore, it was superceded by the amendment in 1911 of the act of 1883 providing the two exclusive plans for taking the census for classifying cities. You could not employ the method of determining the population as in section four of the act of 1899 provided for the further reason that a "direct census" of the city was taken in July, 1912, which is less than three years from the time of the filing of the petition for reorganization.

The act of 1899 under which you are petitioned to determine the population of the city of Glendale and call said election was passed at a time when only the male citizens of the state, possessing the necessary qualifications, were entitled to vote. On October 10, 1911, the voting strength of the state of California was practically doubled by the enfranchisement of women, which newly franchised citizens participated in the last general election of the city of Glendale. Therefore, the vote cast at the last general election is practically double that which would have been cast had the law fixing the qualifications of voters remained the same as it was at the time the act of 1899 became a law.

In the matter of the reorganization of the city under a higher or lower class it is a jurisdictional requirement of the law that the board of trustees or city council have an official census of the city showing a population which entitles the city to so reorganize. The only official census which you have for that purpose is the federal census of 1910, which I am advised by the city clerk is something less than twenty-eight hundred. Before you could take any valid legal steps to call an election for the purpose of reorganizing the city of Glendale as a fifth class city it will be necessary for you to have an official census taken as provided by the general law under the act of 1883, showing the city to have a population of between six and twenty thousand.

A city government organized without such census would be invalid. All of which is respectfully submitted.

Very truly yours,
W. E. EVANS,
City Attorney.

On motion of Trustee Tower the city attorney was instructed to prepare the necessary legal papers preparatory to taking such a census and to present them to the board at the next regular meeting.

The manager of the public service department stated that the department is now laying a series of cast iron pipe lines, and that he would soon be in need of hydrants, and he asked permission to advertise for bids on about fifty six-inch hydrants. On motion of Trustee Grist the city clerk was instructed to advertise accordingly.

On motion an ordinance of the city of Glendale ordering the opening and widening of Broadway from the east line of Everett street to the easterly boundary line of the city of Glendale in the manner contemplated in ordinance No. 262 of said city, was taken up for third reading and final passage, and is published in this issue of The News.

board with a request that the alley in block 3, town of Glendale, running north from Third street along lots 27, 28 and 29 be abandoned, and that in turn she would grant an easement over the same strip to the city, her object being to protect her fruit trees along the lines of said alley, which she claims are now very much molested by children. On motion this question was referred to the city attorney.

PASSING OF PAPYRUS

One of the modern mysteries of Egypt is the disappearance of the papyrus plant that once fringed the lower Nile and made a desirable haunt for water fowl. A botanist, recently from Cairo, declares that in all lower Egypt the only papyri now growing in a natural state are in the Esbekieh gardens fountain at Cairo, the botanical gardens and at the Barrage. Perhaps Isaiah may have thrown the evil eye on the plant, for among his prophecies is the destruction of the "paper reeds by the brooks." If we did not have ancient illustrations to guide us it would be impossible from the present scanty remains to reconstruct the amazing fields of papyri that indirectly helped to civilize us.—London Tatler.

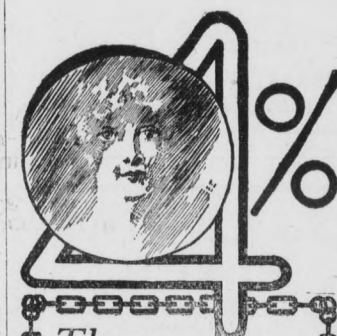

BORN IN HUNGER

A circus man is said to have coined the word "jitney." It is in common use in the circus and sideshow world, and is the speller's appellation for a nickel. The Kansas City Star says so. The circus man is said to have stolen the word from a member of the Romany tribe. The jitney car service was born in a hungry man's mind. In Los Angeles a man who had a Ford car and no money with which to eat, ran up to a crowd and cried, "Get in and I will haul you home for a nickel." His idea was to earn enough with which to get something to eat and then go his way looking for something better. Business overwhelmed him. When competition grew too strong, he jumped from Los Angeles to El Paso. He found nickels plentiful. When others jumped into the game, the founder of the jitney service jumped to Houston. Now the jitney has invaded Fort Worth and Dallas.

It was born in a hungry man's mind, but it is a revolution just the same. Queer old world, this world of ours. Hunger is the mother of invention.—Fort Worth Record.
